Move Our Money Toolkit

Virginia Organizing
703 Concord Avenue
Charlottesville, VA 22903
434-984-4655
www.virginia-organizing.org

Media Inquiries: Julie Blust blust@virginia-organizing.org 804-405-6615
Budget and Tax Reform Inquiries: Ben Thacker-Gwaltney ben@virginia-organizing.org
757-570-3005

New Bottom Line/Move Our Money
www.moveourmoneyusa.org
Toolkit for Divestment Actions:
Individuals, Organizations and Congregations Divesting

Table of Contents

Call to Action and Demands ........................................ 3
How it Works .................................................................. 5
How to Close Your Big Bank Account and Open a New One ...... 6
Sample Divestment Pledge (to sign people up during action) ...... 8
Meet the CEOs .................................................................. 9
Letter:  Wells Fargo CEO John Stumpf ................................. 11
Letter:  BofA CEO Brian Moynihan .................................. 12
Social Media Tools .............................................................. 13
Fact Sheet .......................................................................... 15

www.virginia-organizing.org     www.moveourmoneyusa.org
Call to Action

Take It Back: Our Money, Our Values, Our Democracy
Divesting from the Big Banks To Build a New Bottom Line

Banks should exist to build wealth for families and grow our economy. But instead, Big Banks do the opposite – they squeeze the 99% in order to make the top 1% even richer.

Big Banks have turned people into profit-generating machines. Their executives make billions of dollars while leaving American families stuck picking up the tab. A tab that includes:

- 11 million jobs lost and continued record-high unemployment
- 7.9 million foreclosed homes and nearly $2 trillion in lost homeowner wealth due to foreclosure, including the largest drop ever in generational wealth in communities of color
- Billions in pensions wiped away and tens of thousands of vacant bank-owned properties littering neighborhoods from coast to coast.

Rather than being held accountable, the Big Banks continue to spend millions on the campaigns for our elected officials to rig the system in their favor.

Worst of all: they’re doing it with our money. That’s why Americans are coming to collect and do what politicians have failed to do. We’re going to TAKE IT BACK until the Big Banks invest back in our communities.

In the coming months, workers, faith leaders, students, families, congregations, unions, and organizations will come together to take $1 billion of our money out of Bank of America, and other Big Banks like JP Morgan Chase and Wells Fargo and take back control of the resources our communities need to grow and thrive. Instead, we will invest our money in institutions that invest back in our local communities rather ship wealth off to corporate headquarters.

Through this action, we will say to the Big Banks: No more profiting off of millions of illegal foreclosures. No more billions of dollars in taxpayer-funded bailouts. No more hoarding a trillion-plus dollars while our communities crumble and good jobs disappear. No more stealing our democracy, using our money to buy elected officials. And we will say to Local Community Banks and Credit Unions: We will work with you if you in turn invest in our families and communities.

What’s the goal and how does the campaign work?

By moving our money we’re taking back control of our community’s resources. And, we’re also putting real pressure at the national level on Wall Street to change their behavior—to stop foreclosures, pay their fair share in taxes, and stop putting out whole economy at risk with massive gambles and speculative investing schemes.

www.virginia-organizing.org  www.moveourmoneyusa.org
Divestment campaigns are powerful because they give us a chance to have a much bigger financial impact than any of us could acting alone. Our cities, counties, churches, and schools have much bigger bank accounts than we do—and we can influence where they put it.

Right now divestment campaigns have the potential to spread like wildfire. If we can get enough cities and big institutions across the country to adopt divestment resolutions, it will put the big Wall Street banks on the defensive and push them towards real solutions, help hold them accountable for the damage they’ve done to our economy, and simultaneously allow us to support local banking and to begin taking back control of the resources our communities need to grow and thrive.

So whether you have $20, $200, $2,000 or $2,000,000 in your account, your action is an important part of the “take it back” movement. Every dollar we take back goes towards building a new bottom line that means good jobs, healthy communities, and a government that fights for the 99%.

Let’s Take It Back together. Move your money, speak out, attract local media and send a message to Wall Street and the Big Banks that enough is enough. And, at the same time, call on your elected leaders to take back taxpayer dollars and divest city, state and county money from the Big Banks. We will continue to Take it Back until the Big Banks:

- Pay Their Fair Share: Stop draining government of revenue and pay their statutorily required 35 percent corporate income tax. Stop gaming the system through offshore tax shelters and loopholes. Bank of America alone has 371 tax-sheltered subsidiaries, 204 on the Cayman Islands.

- Save our Homes and Revitalize the Economy: Reduce principal for all underwater homeowners to current market value. This would end the foreclosure crisis, reset the housing market, pump billions of dollars back into the economy and create over one million jobs a year.

- Invest in American Jobs: Stop sitting on their more than one trillion in cash reserves that could be invested into small businesses, the primary vehicle for job creation in the US, as well as into additional job-generating investments.

- End discriminatory lending: Stop all lending practices that result in fewer or lower-quality loans being made to communities of color, and implement new, fair lending programs targeting communities of color to make up for massive inequality they helped to create.

Our plan:
In late October through December we will organize individuals, congregations, and organizations to publicly move money and business from Bank of America, JP Morgan Chase and Wells Fargo – we’re setting a goal of moving at least $1 Billion from our Big Bank targets.

www.virginia-organizing.org  www.moveourmoneyusa.org
Angry with the Big Banks?
Divest for a New Bottom Line!

If you bank with Wells Fargo, Bank of America, or JP Morgan/Chase, you can make them listen when America says,
“You can’t buy us, and you can’t buy our government!”

Here is how it works:

1. Get a group of people you know who have accounts with one of the mega-banks. Try to include individuals, small businesses, and faith communities if you can. The more people there are, the more they will pay attention! [Contact your local Virginia Organizing organizer to see if there are divestment actions already planned in your area.]

2. Get together beforehand and plan what you will do. If a participant can’t make it, have someone brief them so they will know.

3. Everyone meet at the same bank branch and walk in together. Ask to speak to the branch manager. Don’t spring this on some un-suspecting teller or loan officer; they won’t be as likely to relay the message up the command chain.

4. Present the attached list of complaints or one like it that you create together.

5. Tell the manager you are a customer, don’t like the way the bank does business and would like to close your accounts. Be aware that some kinds of accounts, such as IRA’s and Certificates of Deposit, may carry some cash penalty for early withdrawal.

6. Take pictures and movies to document the event. Send us the photos so we can post them on our website and share them with “divesters” across the nation! Send them to blust@virginia-organizing.org.

7. Move your money to a small bank or credit union that will not rip you off and then ask you for a bail out. They will more actively lend your money to individuals and small businesses that will make a contribution in your community, and less to the gamblers on Wall Street. (Make sure to do your research on how to move your money before you withdraw it.) You can find a good local institution by visiting the website, www.moveyourmoneyproject.org

8. Make sure you let the CEO of the bank know that you have divested.

www.virginia-organizing.org    www.moveourmoneyusa.org
Steps to Closing your Checking and Savings Accounts at a “Big Bank”

Set up an account at another financial institution

☐ Find another financial institution that has your values. You may wish to check out a credit union in your area. You can find suggestions at www.moveyourmoney.org.

☐ Once you have found a new financial institution, open up your accounts (like the ones you will be closing at your Big Bank).

☐ Order your checks.

☐ Order your ATM/Debit Card. Note: Some institutions will give you a debit card upon opening your account.

☐ Set up automated payments (mortgage, cell phones, student loans, garbage, etc…). You can use your last bank statement to make a list of any businesses that you’ve authorized to directly debit your account.

☐ Set up automatic deposits, such as your paycheck if you get one from your employer.

☐ Set up online banking (if that is what you had in your Big Bank account).

☐ If you have automated banking, you may wish to log on at your earliest convenience to set up your bill payments that way. Log on to your Big Bank online banking to get all your information about which you pay online. Set up your online banking payments.

Closing your Big Bank account

☐ Go through your Big Bank statements to determine exactly what accounts you want to move. Be aware that you may need all the account holders present to close some joint accounts. If in doubt, call and check first.

☐ Take the Divestment Letter (a letter that you write to the CEO of the bank telling him the reasons you are moving your money) to give to the clerk at the Big Bank.

☐ When you speak to the teller, inform the teller you wish to speak to the manager about a very serious concern.

☐ Get the manager’s and teller’s names.

☐ Tell the manager that you are closing your account today. Read the Divestment Letter to the manager.

a. Give the form to the manager and tell the manager that you want this Notice of Divestment to be placed in the bank’s Community Reinvestment Act file.
b. Let the manager know that we will be checking to see that the Notice of Divestment is actually in the file.

☐ For funds greater than $100, we suggest you get your money in a cashier’s check to deposit in your new account. However, your new financial institution may allow you to have the funds wired to your new account for no cost. Check with your new financial institution first.

☐ Warning: Do not just withdraw the last dollar and assume the account will fade away on its own. Your old Big Bank may start charging you fees for having an empty or inactive checking account. Instead, follow the bank's procedure for closing out the account.

☐ When you get home, shred all remaining checks and debit cards. This is an essential step. If you mistakenly use the checks or debit cards, you will be going back to the Big Bank branch, except this time it will be to clean up a mess.

☐ Make sure to write to the CEO of the Big Bank and let him know why you divested.

☐ Stand in front of a full-length mirror. Admire yourself. You’ve earned it!

Other Kinds of Accounts

☐ IRA’s. You can move your IRA to another account, but make sure that the Big Bank writes the check to the new IRA fund rather than to you so you won’t have any tax penalties. Seek advice at your new IRA fund first to see if they can help you through the process.

☐ Home mortgages. You should seek the assistance of a home mortgage broker from an institution you trust to guide you through this, as it will likely mean a refinancing of your mortgage. Also, be aware that mortgages are bought and sold without your consent. In fact, the bundling of bad mortgages into bonds is the heart of the 2008 economic collapse.

☐ Credit cards. Open a new credit card serviced by a bank that you trust and respect. After you are sure all charges have cleared on your Big Bank card, write a letter to the bank with your card number and signature and cancel your card.

☐ Car loans. This generally means getting a new loan to pay off the old one. Ask the loan officers at your new bank or credit union and they will step you through the process.

Thank you for taking a stand against the Big Banks’ bad business practices!

---

After you have closed your account(s), please let us know by reaching Ben at ben@virginia-organizing.org or call 757-570-3005.
Divestment Pledge for people in crowd

Have Money in Bank of America? Take It Back To Build a New Bottom Line

Wall Street and the Big Banks take from the 99% to make the 1% get richer. They crashed the economy and cost us, but it's American families who are stuck picking up the tab. That's why Americans are coming to collect and do what politicians have failed to do. We're going to take back our money until the Big Banks invest in our communities.

Through this action, we will say to the Big Banks: No more profiting off of millions of illegal foreclosures. No more billions of dollars in taxpayer-funded bailouts. No more hoarding a trillion-plus dollars while our communities crumble and good jobs disappear. No more stealing our democracy, using our money to buy elected officials.

Communities and organizations across the nation are moving their money from the Big Banks to say, “not with my money.” Every dollar we take back goes towards building a new bottom line that means good jobs, healthy communities, and a government that fights for the 99%. The Big Bank's irresponsible practices must be stopped. Please join us in our campaign to put our money where our values are. (for more information, go to http://www.moveourmoneyusa.org/)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Do you bank with the Big Banks (Bank of America, Wells Fargo, Chase)?</th>
<th>Yes</th>
<th>No</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>□ I am interested in learning more about this campaign.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>□ I am interested in moving my accounts with the Big Banks to a responsible lending institution.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Signature:</th>
<th>Date:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Phone:  ( )</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Email:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

| I plan to move: |
|□ up to $24,999 |
|□ $25,000 - $49,999 |
|□ $50,000 - $99,999 |
|□ over $100,000 |
|□ I prefer not to disclose how much I will move. |

www.virginia-organizing.org  www.moveourmoneyusa.org
Who’s Responsible for this Mess?
Meet:

BANK OF AMERICA
CEO Brian Moynihan,
brian.t.moynihan@bankofamerica.com
Federal taxpayer bailout funds received: $230.1 billion
Profits since bailout (2009-2010): $4.0 billion
2010 CEO Brian Moynihan bonus: $9.05 million
2010 CEO Brian Moynihan total pay: $10 million
2010 total company bonuses and compensation: $35.1 billion

WELLS FARGO
CEO John Stumpf, John.G.Stumpf@wellsfargo.com
Federal taxpayer bailout funds received: $43.7 billion
Profits since bailout (2009-2010): $24.6 billion
2010 CEO John Stumpf bonus: $14.3 million
2010 CEO John Stumpf total pay: $17.1 million
2010 total company bonuses and compensation: $27.2 billion

JP Morgan Chase
CEO James Dimon, jamie.dimon@chase.com
Federal taxpayer bailout funds received: $25 billion
Profits since bailout (2009-2010): $29.1 billion
2008-2010 CEO James Dimon pay: $93.6 million
2010 total company bonuses and compensation: $26.9 billion

After you divest your money, let these Big Bank CEOs know that they will no longer be getting your business.

We know where the money is to keep our communities strong and healthy. It’s not in Grandma’s pension. It’s not in the homes of families fighting foreclosure. And it’s not in the pockets of American schoolchildren or schoolteachers. It’s not in cuts to what we care about most.

The money is in Wall Street and the Big Banks.
Nationwide, thousands of people are demanding the Big Banks “Pay US Back”. You, too, can tell them:

- Pay your fair share: Stop draining the government of revenue and pay their statutorily required 35% corporate income tax. Stop gaming the system through off-shore tax shelters, loopholes and scams.

- Stabilize the housing market and revitalize the economy: Reduce the principal for all underwater homeowners to current-market value. This would end the foreclosure crisis, reset the housing market, pump billions of dollars back into the economy and create 1 million jobs a year.

- Invest in American jobs: Stop sitting on trillions in cash reserves that could be invested into small businesses, the main source of jobs in the U.S., as well as into additional into job-generating investments.

- End discriminatory and predatory lending practices: Stop all lending practices that result in fewer or lower-quality loans being made to communities of color and implement programs targeting communities of color to mitigate the impact of existing disparities.
Wells Fargo Divestment Letter

John G. Stumpf
President and CEO
Wells Fargo & Company
420 Montgomery Street
San Francisco, CA 94104

Dear Mr. Stumpf:

Today, I came and closed my Wells Fargo accounts. I took back $_______.

I took my money back because instead of investing in our families and community, you are taking from us – the 99% - to make yourself and your friends in the 1% get richer.

Your bank crashed our economy, destroyed jobs, caused millions to lose their homes, and bankrupted city and state budgets, yet you refuse to pay your fair share of what it will take to rebuild our economy. Over the last ten years, Wells Fargo paid the lowest worldwide tax rate of the top five Big Banks – you paid only 24.8% on your $110.9 billion in earnings, and reportedly did not pay any federal taxes in 2009. Just a year after receiving nearly $200 billion in taxpayer bailouts, you joined other Big Banks in setting a record for CEO compensation.

And you’re doing all of this with our money. This is why I am part of a movement to take our money back and put it in institutions that share our values and invest in our community. We’re creating a new bottom line that means good jobs, healthy communities, and a government that can’t be bought off with your big dollar contributions and lobbyists.

I will tell my friends, families, congregations, and civic organizations to close their accounts. I will also organize with others and demand that our elected officials ensure that our cities, counties and states divest from Wells Fargo until you:

• Pay Your Fair Share: Stop draining the government of revenue and pay the required 35 percent corporate income tax. Stop gaming the system through tax shelters, loopholes and scams
• Stabilize the Housing Market and Revitalizing the Economy: Reduce the principal for all underwater homeowners to current market value. This would end the foreclosure crisis, reset the housing market, pump billions of dollars back into the economy and create over one million jobs a year.
• Invest in American Jobs: Invest in and lend to small businesses, the primary vehicle for job creation in the U.S., as well as into additional job-generating investments.
• End discriminatory lending practices: Stop all lending practices that result in fewer or lower-quality loans being made to communities of color and implement programs targeting communities of color to mitigate the impact of existing disparities.

For more information on the Take it Back Movement, please visit http://www.moveourmoneyusa.org/. Sincerely,

www.virginia-organizing.org   www.moveourmoneyusa.org
Bank of America Divestment Letter

Brian Moynihan,
Chief Executive Officer
Bank of America
100 North Tryon Street
Charlotte, NC 28255

Dear Mr. Moynihan:

Today, I came and closed my Bank of America accounts. I took back $______.

I took my money back because instead of investing in our families and community, you are taking from us – the 99% - to make yourself and your friends in the 1% get richer.

Your bank is Bad for America and Bad for our community. You crashed our economy, destroyed jobs, caused millions to lose their homes, and bankrupted city and state budgets, yet you refuse to pay your fair share of what it will take to rebuild our economy. Just a year after receiving nearly $200 billion in taxpayer bailouts, you joined other Big Banks in setting a record for CEO compensation. Last month, you announced you will lay off 30,000 workers—a move that will have devastating consequences in communities across the country.

And you’re doing all of this with our money. This is why I am a part of a movement to take our money back and put it in institutions that share our values and invest in our community. We’re creating a new bottom line that means good jobs, healthy communities, and a government that can’t be bought off with your big dollar contributions and lobbyists.

I will tell my friends, families, congregations, and civic organizations to close their accounts. I will also organize with others and demand that our elected officials ensure that our cities, counties and states divest from Bank of America until you:

- Pay Your Fair Share: Stop draining the government of revenue and pay the required 35 percent corporate income tax. Stop gaming the system through your 371 tax-sheltered subsidiaries.
- Stabilize the Housing Market and Revitalizing the Economy: Reduce the principal for all underwater homeowners to current market value. This would end the foreclosure crisis, reset the housing market, pump billions of dollars back into the economy and create over one million jobs a year.
- Invest in American Jobs: Invest in and lend to small businesses, the primary vehicle for job creation in the US, as well as into additional job-generating investments.
- End discriminatory lending practices: Stop all lending practices that result in fewer or lower-quality loans being made to communities of color and implement programs targeting communities of color to mitigate the impact of existing disparities.

For more information on the Take it Back Movement, please visit http://www.moveourmoneyusa.org/.

Sincerely,

---

www.virginia-organizing.org  www.moveourmoneyusa.org
Using Online Social Media to #MoveOurMoney

Communication on online “social media” platforms such as Facebook and Twitter are a critical supplement to more traditional outreach to your members, the public, and the press. An important advantage of social media is that communications are instant and widespread. You don’t have to wait to show your family and friends pictures of your #MoveOurMoney action. You can share photos, videos, and commentary about the action while still at the action.

Below are a few ideas on how you can use online social media tools to amplify your #MoveOurMoney action.

Using Facebook
Find people to join you in a #MoveOurMoney action by creating a Facebook event.

Here’s the link to create a Facebook event: http://www.facebook.com/events/create/

If you want to an ongoing Take It Back campaign in your community, you may also consider creating a Facebook page (ex. “Take It Back Pittsburgh!”).

Here’s the link to create a Facebook page: http://www.facebook.com/pages/create.php

Invite all your Facebook friends to your event page and follow up with them in other media, like the telephone, email, and over coffee.

Using Twitter
Twitter is a critical tool for reaching local reporters, bloggers, and even the Big Banks themselves.

Make sure you somebody at your a for your #MoveOurMoney action has a Twitter account and is prepared to live-Tweet photos, videos, and information about your action while it’s progressing.

You can also Tweet tactically before and after the action:

• Take a picture of a protest sign to recruit people to join you
• Share a photo your account closure receipt (with all personal info blacked out, of course) to the CEO of the bank and the bank’s customer service Twitter account.
• Get a snapshot of the bank branch you moved your money out of encourage others to do the same.
• Tweet your community’s treasurer and ask them to divest from Big Banks.

Here are some sample Tweets for a #MoveOurMoney action:

BEFORE
• Have your money in a #bigbank? Well, #MoveOurMoney on [date/day of action]. Find a community bank here: www.moveourmoneyuse.org
• Do you have money in a Big Bank? Me too. But on [date/day of action] I’m going to #MoveOurMoney. Will you join me, [name of your community]? Please retweet! [Link to your Facebook event page]

DURING – If you use Tweetdeck [Link] or Hootsuite [Link], you can schedule Tweets in advance!
• 10 of us with money in @bankofamerica are in the lobby to #MoveOurMoney will you join us? [Link to Toolkit]
• Check out this picture of us at @wellsfargo. We all had money in accounts, but today we #MoveOurMoney! Will you join us? [Link to Toolkit]

AFTER
• I had money in a #bigbank but today I decided to #MoveOurMoney. Will you join us? [Link to Toolkit]
• I had money in a #bigbank but today I decided to #MoveOurMoney. Check out this video/photo album. [Link to video or photos]

Here are some useful Twitter handles to use for #MoveOurMoney:
@BofA_community
@BofA_help
@BofA_careers
@wellsfargo
@ask_wellsfargo

JP Morgan Chase doesn’t appear to have any Facebook or Twitter accounts. Please email ian@newbottomline.com if you discover otherwise, and we will update these materials.

Local and Progressive Bloggers

Reach out to local bloggers for coverage and support. Identify friendly, progressive bloggers in and around your community and pitch them on covering the event – both before in order to build buzz and after to make sure your action is amplified as much as possible.

Identify their Twitter handles and Facebook pages and make sure to include them when you post information online.
Factsheet:
Wall Street and the Big Banks Owe America Billions

Wells Fargo, Bank of America, JP Morgan Chase, Citigroup, Goldman Sachs, and Morgan Stanley: their reckless and predatory lending practices have devastated the country. Here is what happened:

- These banks pushed homeowners into high-cost loans they couldn't afford and then cashed out by selling the loans to investment banks that turned them into mortgage-backed securities (MBS). This widespread practice, which started among subprime lenders but was quickly adopted by the Big Banks, created and inflated the housing bubble. Bankers and brokers raked in mega-bonus checks making homeowners vulnerable. When Wall Street’s bets went sour, the bankers were bailed out by taxpayers and got to keep their bonuses, but hard-working Americans lost billions in savings in their homes.
- Wall Street’s recklessness is well documented and continues to have devastating consequences as the banks use flawed—and, in some cases, fraudulent—procedures to flood the housing market with foreclosures that are throwing millions of families out of their homes.
- Currently, the five largest mortgage companies in the U.S. are under investigation by all 50 state Attorneys General for foreclosure fraud. They may be liable for more than $20 billion in damages. But this amount is not enough to pay back communities for the harm they did.
- The same Big Banks that crashed our economy, destroyed jobs, caused millions to lose their homes, and bankrupted city and state budgets are now reaping record profits—and yet they are refusing to pay their fair share of what it will take to rebuild our economy. It’s time to make them pay their fair share of taxes and pay our communities back for destroying jobs and neighborhoods. It’s time to rebuild America.

1) The Costs of the Big Bank Foreclosures Hit Everyone:
The foreclosure crisis has uprooted communities, destroyed neighborhoods and devastated the state economy. Unless the banks step up to fix the foreclosure crisis, the damage to our communities and state economy will be staggering and long-lasting. Experts estimate the cost of a foreclosure to local governments can cost an average of $19,227 per home.

| Homes in Foreclosure Nationally | 7.9 million |
| Cost of Foreclosures to Taxpayers | $152 billion |

2) The Big Banks Don’t Pay Their Fair Share of Taxes:

---

1 This is the total number of foreclosures between January 2009 and July 2011 according to Realtytrac.com

www.virginia-organizing.org  www.moveourmoneyusa.org
Like too many corporations, the Big Banks game the tax system through extensive tax loopholes, off-shore profit havens, and political lobbying. They should stop draining our government of critical revenue and start paying the required 35% federal [5% Virginia state] corporate income tax rate.

Wells Fargo paid .7% on average in state corporate income tax between 2008-10.

3) The Big Banks Finance Payday Loan Shops:
Big Banks like Wells Fargo, JPMorgan Chase and Bank of America continue to bilk taxpayers for millions every year by providing “revolving lines of credit” to the national payday loan corporations.

3. Wells Fargo: ACE Cash Express, Advance America, Cash America, Check Into Cash, Dollar Financial, Express Title & Payday Loans, EZCORP, First Cash Financial
3. Bank of America: Advance America, Moneytree
3. JP Morgan Chase: ACE Cash Express, Cash America, First Cash Financial

4) The Big Banks Cut Lending to Small Businesses, Costing Jobs:
Nationally, unemployment hovers around 10 percent and distressed small businesses continue to close their doors and lay off thousands of workers. Across the country, we have lost nearly 7 million jobs since 2008. But even after receiving trillions in bailouts, banks have cut back small business lending drastically. The decline in affordable small business lending has had a dramatic effect on unemployment, which in turn has become the driving force behind foreclosures.

Jobs Lost in Nationally since 2008: 6.9 million
Small Business Lending 7(a) Decline Nationally since the Bailout: $5.5 B (20%)
Jobs That Could Be Funded if Banks Restored Lending to Pre-Bailout Levels: 505,884

5) The Big Banks Hit Communities of Color Especially Hard:
During the housing boom, Big Banks and their mortgage lending operations steered People of Color toward subprime loans with a higher risk of default and foreclosure. A recent study finds that the bursting of the housing bubble and the ensuing economic crisis has led to a 66% loss of wealth for Latino households and a 53% loss for Black households, compared to a 16% loss for White households.

During the height of the housing bubble:
Black borrowers were more than two-and-a-half times more likely than white borrowers to get subprime loans.
Latino borrowers were more than twice as likely as white borrowers to get subprime loans.

---

2 Change in loan amount in the two-year period since the bailout (FY2009-2010) from the two years prior (FY2007-2008).